Last updated: on 3 December 2019 the Google Fusion tables and the merger tables were interrupted. We want to thank all our users in the last nine years. We understand that you may not agree with this decision, but we hope that you will find equally useful alternatives, including Bigquery, Cloud SQL, Maps Platform and Data Studio.
 ? All data from the Google Fusion tables (e.g. data loaded in the tables) will be systematically deleted by Google servers. In the future there is a way to recover the data of my fusion tables from Google? You will be able to download the data of the table via Google Takeout until March 3, 2020. Subsequently, all the data of the merger tables will be eliminated permanently and irrevocably. Why have the Google Fusion tables have been interrupted? For more information, consult our blog post.

 Export Arena Save-Games (Windows) [edit] export Arena life games is a little more difficult in Windows. First, identify where Arena memorizes its files. With the official release of Bethesda, the default position is C:\Program_files\Bethesda_softorms\Arena; With the most practical arenaseut program, the default position is C:\Games\Bethesda_sofonts\Arena (note that "C:\\" can be necessary to change the primary unit of the computer to any letter is; this is the unit with A much large storage capacity on machines with what seems to be more than a unit). For easy access, create a new folder in this position, preferably called "save-games" (even if it can be what you want), and copy the *.ox files to this position. These files can now be transmitted to anyone who would like to enjoy them.
 Importation Save-Games (Windows) [Edit] after downloading/receiving the desired rescue games, must be copied to the position in which Arena stores its file (see export Arena Save-Games (Windows) above). The best way to do this is to copy the savings to an empty slot; see the second paragraph of "amount Save-games (dos) "above for instructions on how to do this.
